Test 10

Thank you for the book you sent me for my birthday a week ago. I will really enjoy reading it as the book is the one I have intended to buy ever since it was published two years ago. Last Tuesday instead of buying me a present, my sister took me for a meal to a restaurant which had been recommended in a local newspaper. The restaurant has been open for only two month, but it's already quite popular with young people even though it's 25 kilometres away.

We enjoyed the evening as the meal was delicious and we were served wonderfully.

Unfortunately, after we left the restaurant, we had a problem with the car as it didn't start though we had been trying nearly half an hour. We couldn't understand what had happened to the car and decided to leave it in the car park until the following day.

We had nothing else to do but call a taxi which came in about an hour.
